The citizens of Nashville Union and American, March 15.]

The citizens of Nashville paid the last sad office of love and respect to the memory of the late Aaron V. Brown poterday. It was a grand and solemn pageant—the heart-felt tribute of those who know the great worth and eniment social qualities of their late fellow-citizen. The remains of the deceased arrived at the depot of the Nashville and Chattanooga, railroad, about nine o'clock, in charge of Judge Catron, Senator Nicholson, Col. Savage, and Mr. Finks, accompanied by a guard of honor from Knoxville, among whom we noticed Col. Wm. H. Sneed, Capt. G. W. Harris, Dr. W. R. Hurley, and W. H. Giaves, and were escorted to the State Capitol by the Salely Guards, the German Yagers, the Cadets of the University, federal, State, and city officers, the Manonic Faternity, and a very large concourse of citizens. The procession having arrived at the Capitol, the remains were deposited in the Representatives Hall, where, interspersed with appropriate music from the band, the solemn and Impressive funeral ceremonies of the Protestant Episcopal Church were performed by the Rev. Drs. Quintard and Sammers.

In a few remarks Dr. Summers paid a feeling and ele-quent tribute to the great moral worth and eminent abil-ity of the distinguished deceased—with what fidelity and honer to himself he had discharged the duties of the office held at the time of his death, showing how worthy he was of the confidence of the Chief Executive of the nawas of the confidence of the Chief Executive of the nation, who had chosen him as one of his counsellors. Dr.
Sammers closed his brief reference to the impressive lesson which the confined remains before them so eloquently enforced upon every spectator present by offering a fervent prayer to the Throne of Grace.

The procession-then re-formed, and the remains were escorted to Mount Olivet Cemetery, where they were placed in their final resting-place by the Masonic fraternity, of which he was an honored member. The impressive ceremonies of the ancient fraternity were performed under direction of P. G. M. Charles A. Fuller.

Narival II the business houses in the city, in accord-dive ceremonies of the ancient fraternity were performed under direction of P. G. M. Charles A. Fuller.

Nearly all the business houses in the city, in accordance with the proclamation of the mayor, were closed between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, and business was generally suspended during that hour.

We noticed that the St. Cloud Hotel was heavily draped in mourning as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased. The post office building and the Union and American office were also appropriately draped.

The remains came through in a car from Lynchburg, Va., prepared expressly for their reception. Col. V. K. Stevenson had a car tastefully draped at Chattanooga for the purpose of conveying the remains to this place, but they were not removed from the car in which they were deposited at Lynchburg until they reached this place.

Large crowds assembled at various points on the Nashville and Chattanooga railroad to pay a last sad tribute to the memory of one they loved so well in life. Honored by his fellow-citizens in life, they revered his memory in death.

As compared with 1856, there has been an increase of £787,383. This result is stiributable mainly to the suppression of the Indian mutiny, and the consequent demand for cotton manufactures in that country. The American end colonial trade has been duil throughout, although in these instances, looking at the prospects with which the year opened, the transactions have been larger and better than could have been hoped. It was railway enterprise that received the principal check, and the falling off in the shipment of irou and steel has been to the extent of £2,270,031.

LATER FROM MEXICO.

[From the N. O. Picayune, March 9.]

[From the N. O. Plexyene, March?]

By the stramship Quaker City we have, besides those already published, newspaper accounts from all parts of Mexico several days later than our files brought by the Tennessee. They contain nothing, however, of the movements of Miramon's army, so late as the exciting news brought by express to Minatitlera just before the steamer sailed.

This, however, appears from the papers before us, that the movement of the invaling army on Avarado, and, sa the sea-coast road, thence to Vera Crus, was not a surprise. Miramon had, indeed, openly proclaimed this as the plan of h's campaign, but it was not generally credited; and, in fact, the diversion from the great central and direct road seems to have been finally determined on as a necessity to avoid the liberal troops holding the invaders there in check.

At Vera Cruz, notwitstanding the affected contempt of Miramon, the excitement increased in proportion to the approach of the inva ling army. The city is represented, however, to be in the most perfect state of defence, and well prepared to give the enemy a rough reception. The fight would be a desperate one. "Liberty or death" was the watchword.

The usual proclamation preceding the siege of a city was issued in due form, on the 22d, by the commender-in-chief, Gen. Iglesias.

All foreigners and citizens not under arms or in the service of the government are thereby invited to leave within the space of three days. That period clapsed, none would be permitted to pass beyond the line of defences. Nor would the government hold itself responsible in case of injury to any individual of this class who remained in the city. During the progress of the siege, and so long as the eacmy remain within three leagues of the city, women and children under twelve years of age are not permitted to leave the house, to open doors or windows, or stand on the balconies, &c.

The concealment of arms, or individuals under arms, is also forbidden, and treasonable correspondence with the enemy is to be ramished with instant death.

The Extraordinary from the capital, which should have connected with the Tennessee, but failed, has arrived at Vera Cruz. The Progress says the detention was by special orders of Miramon, to prevent news of his movements being taken to Vera Cruz and to the United States.

THR SALE OF THE SCHOONER WANDE-RER.

From the Savannah Correspondence of the New York Express March 12]

March 12]
The schooner Wanderer was sold this morning by the United States marshal, according to advertisement, in front of the custom-house. At 11 o'clock a good crowd had collected, when Mr. Stewart, the United States marshale shal, proceeded to self a trunk which was found on board, containing private papers belonging to Capt. Corrie. He stated that there was nothing but letters and papers in stated that there was nothing but letters and papers in the trunk, and hoped some person would buy it and send it to Capt. C. Mr. C. A. Lamar then bid one dollar, at which price it was knocked off to him. The marshal then read the advertisement under which he offered the Wanderer for sale, when Mr. Lamar, who was standing by his side, said, "Gentlemen, I claim this vessel as my property, taken from me by the high hand of the law. I intend to buy her, and it remains with you to say whether I shall be compelled to pay a high price for her or not." The marshal then commenced the sale. The first bid was $500, and from this it ran slowly up to $750, when Mr. Charles Van Horn, the jailor of Chatham country, who was bidding against Mr. Lamar, igumed to $750, when Mr. Charles Van Horn, the jailor of Chatham county, who was bidding against Mr. Lamar, jumped to $1,000. It then ran along between these two, $25 at a time, till it reached about $3,500, with the exception of two or three more $250 starts by Van Horn. There was very little dwelling on any bid, each party nodding as soon as the bid of the exposite party was announced.

Several gentlemen in the crowd spoke to Van Horn, begging him to cease bidding, as they did not consider it right after what Lamar had said, but he went on until his last bid was $3,975. Lamar bid $4,000, and the Wanderer was knocked off to him. He was standing directly beside the United States marshal, and Van Horn was in front, about ten feet distant. I was facing Lamar, and, as the bidding went on, I saw that in his eye which betokened mischief, and watched the motions of the parties accordingly. As soon as the sale was completed, Lamar tokened miscinnet, and watched the motions of the particle accordingly. As soon as the sale was completed, Iamar walked towards Van Horn, denounced him with most opprobrious epithets; and, as he concluded, he got near enough to strike, which he did effectually. The blow took effect on Van Horn's ear, turning him completely around, and forcing him to describe almost a somerset to be ground. The crowd cheered have nost lastily and the ground. The crowd cheered bravo most lustily, and the ground. The crowd cheered bravo most lustily, and closed around. Van Horn was partially stunned by the blow, but got up and made a rush towards Lamar. Both parties are accustomed to go armed, and a scene was anticipated. Cries of "Pitch in, Charley!" "Give it to him!" "Kill him!" &c., were made; but it was not so easy to tell which side they were intended to encourage, as both are known by the name of "Charley." Friends of both parties interfered, and the threatened affray was stopped for a time, but it will not end here.

Of course, there was considerable excitement for a time; of course, there was considerable excitement for a time; and, after the principal actors had retired with their friends, little groups gathered discussing the matter. One little individual seemed to be "spilin" for a fight," and kept reiterating, "This is a great southern question," gesticulating with much vehemence.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE EXECUTION.

The Baltimore American of vesterday morning, states that Gov. Hicks has granted a further respite to the condemned murderers, Gambrill, Crops, Corrie, and Cyphus who were to have been executed to day, until the 8th of April next. The visit of the sheriff to the doomed criminals is thus described :

Gambrill shook hands with him cordially when the Gambrill shook hands with him cordially when the sheriff told him at once that he had just received from the Governor a letter granting him a respite. His coun-tenance brightened up, and his instant reply was, "what's the data?" Upon being told that it was April 8th, three weeks from next Friday, his response was, "Well, it don't matter; but where is my father, do you know? Does he know of my respite? Is he in Baltimore or Annapo-lis?"

Corrie was the next one who was approached. He, also, shook the sheriff's hand on entry. On being told also, shook the sherilf's hand on entry. On seing toil that the governor had given him a short respite, he replied that he was glad he had a little longer time, and would endeavor to make the best use of it.

Crop was next visited, and he appeared to be calmer, brighter, and more completely reconciled to his fate than either of the other prisoners. On shaking the sherilf's hand, and hearing that a few days had been added to his life, he replied that he was obliged to the governor.

hand, and hearing that a few days had been added to his life, he replied that he was obliged to the governor for his goodness, and he hoped to use the time allotted him in steady preparation for his fate.

The negro Cyphus was then told the news, and his first exclamation was, "Thank the Lord!" He then said when first condemned he was perfectly resigned to his fate, although an innocent man, and he then hoped it would all soon be over; but since his former respite he the world all soon be over; but since his former respite he had less resignation, he had got a fresh love of life, and the present respite was so gladly received by him as to make him thank the Lord for his mercy. He then protested to the sheriff, that when he hung him he would

THE CPUEBLATION OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY .- This anni-

The assemblage speedily proceeded to do justice to the good things before them. Among the guests at the cross table in the upper end of the room we noticed Marshal Selden, F. McNerhany, esq., and Joseph S. Wilson, chief clerk of the Land Office. After ample time had been consumed in satisfying the cravings of the appetite, the Rev. Mr. O'Toole rose, and after a few pre-fatory remarks, in which he vindicated the fitners of the Irishman to become a good and faithful American citizen, and enforced the necessity of temperance among his fellow-countrymen in this their adopted land, read

Mr. F. McNerhany being here loudly call I for, re sponded appropriately to the last sentiment. Other toasts and speeches were made, and the festivities did not close until a late hour. There were also other dipners in the city in honor of the occasion.

LAWLESSNESS, it appears, has not yet been effectually checked in Baltimore. Officers McHenry and Zimmer-man, of our city police, being lately summoned there as witnesses in a bank-robbery case now on trial, were menaced, in the immediate vicinity of the court-house, with the vengeance of rowdles, whose enmity they have incurred by the vigilant and faithful discharge of their duty. Lieut. McHenry confronted his assailants with revolver in hand, and by dint of wariness and resolution succeeded in reaching the marshal's office unharmed, whence he was escouled to the Washington depot by the marshal and his aids. Officer Zimmerman was obliged to resort to strategem to escape, and was carried by a friend in a bugg/ to the Relay House, nine miles from Baltimore, where he took the cars for this city. It is no ordinary spirit of rowdyism which threaters the lives of the officers of the law at a time when four wretches await, in the prison of the same city, the ignominious doom which they merit: I by deeds of riot and blood-

Murder of Hon. Mike Walsh.

New York, March 17.—The body of Hon. Mike Walsh was found this morning in the area of a building on Eighth avenue. There is every evidence that he was robbed and murdered.

Another report, which is possibly more correct, says that Mr. Walsh met with his death by accidentally fall-into the area and breaking his neck. All the democratic headquarters in the city have their flags at half-mast, with other demonstrations of moerning.

CORNINA AND PAILLAND CURE.—Retuish and Foreign Infernary for the cure of Deafness, Head and Mind Compidents, 32 Syring Gardens, Charing Cross, London, England. Consulting surgeon, Characs Havey Edomal Sensymin, eq. Registered pursuant to act of Parliament. Secretary, Jones Powall, esq. A new discovery, being a positive method of self-cure, afterding instant and magical relief to sufferers who may have been deaf for 40 or 50 years, by means of a compound meditated vapor applied to the external year. When the vapor is passing out, it is held by the nufferer for one minute to the ear affected and instantly the patient, who previously was deaf, is enabled to hear conmon-toned conversation. A few nights' use in a similar way will guarantee to cure the meet invecterate case of deafness and noises in the head. It is a stop to empiricism and exorbitant fees. Sufferers extremely deaf by means of this can permanently cure themselves, in any distant part of the world, without pain. Thousands have been restored to perfect hearing, and forever rescued from the snaret of the numerous dangerous unqualified pretenders of the present day.
Hospital and private testimonials, and certificates from the most emiment physicians and surgeons in England, in whose presence deaf persons have been cured, and many hundreds of private patients cured, can be seen or referred to. Any sufferer on the continent, or resident in any of the four quarters of the globe, can now be cured, as this discovery can be sent to them, with necessary prescriptions, preparations, &c. that will enable them positively to cure themselves.

£5 Se, is the cost of the means of cure, which must be ent to the secretary, Jones Powers, eq., 32 Spring Gardens, Charing Cross, London, England; it can be sent either by banker's draft, payable in England, or notes of the country. Sofficient to cure three cases of most inveterate deafness and noises in the head, £10 10s.
